on 4 and 5 July 2005,[7] in Khartoum on 23 and 24 January 2006,[8] and in Banjul on 1 and 2 July 2006,[9]

Welcoming the adoption of the African Union Non-Aggression and Common Defence Pact at the fourth ordinary session of the Assembly of the African Union, held in Abuja on 30 and 31 January 2005, as an instrument to reinforce cooperation among member States of the African Union in the areas of defence and security and that can in particular contribute to the work of the Peace and Security Council of the African Union and its cooperation with the United Nations,

Welcoming also the adoption of the framework for the ten-year capacity-building programme for the African Union set out in the declaration on enhancing United Nations-African Union cooperation,[10] signed in Addis Ababa on 16 November 2006 by the Secretary-General and the Chairperson of the African Union Commission, which highlights the key areas for cooperation between the African Union and the United Nations, namely institution-building, human resources development, youth unemployment, financial management, peace and security issues, political, legal, social, economic, cultural and human development and food security and environmental protection, as an important step to further enhance the level of cooperation between the two organizations,

Acknowledging the decision of the African Union Peace and Security Council at its 68th meeting, held on 14 December 2006, on the establishment of a coordination and consultation mechanism between the African Union Peace and Security Council and the United Nations Security Council, taking note of discussions between the United Nations Security Council and the African Peace and Security Council held in June 2007, and welcoming the agreement to hold joint meetings at least once a year,[11]

Welcoming, while taking into account the role of the General Assembly, the statements by the President of the Security Council of 19 November 2004[12] on the institutional relationship with the African Union and of 28 March 2007[13] on the relationship between the United Nations and regional organizations, in particular the African Union, in the maintenance of international peace and security,

Bearing in mind the United Nations Declaration on the New Partnership for Africa's Development, contained in its resolution 57/2 of 16 September 2002, and its resolutions 57/7 of 4 November 2002, 58/233 of 23 December 2003, 59/254 of 23 December 2004, 60/222 of 23 December 2005 and 61/229 of 22 December 2006 on the New Partnership,

Stressing the urgent need to address the plight of refugees and internally displaced persons in Africa,

Stressing also the need for extending the scope of cooperation between the United Nations and the African Union in the area of combating illegal exploitation of natural resources in Africa,

Emphasizing the importance of the effective, coordinated and integrated implementation of the United Nations Millennium Declaration,[14] the Doha Development Agenda,[15] the Monterrey Consensus of the International Conference on Financing for Development,[16] the Plan of Implementation of the World Summit on Sustainable Development ("Johannesburg Plan of Implementation")[17] and the 2005 World Summit Outcome,[18]

Welcoming the efforts to enhance cooperation within the framework of a partnership between the peace and security structures of the United Nations and the African Union in the realm of conflict prevention and resolution, crisis management, peacekeeping and post-conflict peacebuilding in Africa,

Acknowledging the significant contribution of the 1999 Algiers Convention on the Prevention and Combating of Terrorism, and noting the centrality of international partnership and cooperation between the African Union, the relevant United Nations organs and the wider international community in the global fight against terrorism,

Acknowledging also the contribution of the United Nations Liaison Office in strengthening coordination and cooperation between the United Nations and the African Union, as well as the need to consolidate it so as to enhance its performance,

Convinced that strengthening cooperation between the United Nations and the African Union will contribute to the advancement of the principles of the Charter of the United Nations, the principles of the Constitutive Act of the African Union and the development of Africa,

1. Takes note with appreciation of the report of the Secretary-General;[1]

2. Stresses the need for closer cooperation and coordination between the United Nations system and the African Union, in accordance with the Cooperation Agreement as well as other relevant memorandums of understanding between the two organizations, particularly in the implementation of the commitments contained in the United Nations Millennium Declaration[14] and the 2005 World Summit Outcome[18] and as regards achieving the internationally agreed development goals, including the Millennium Development Goals, at the national, subregional and regional levels;

3. Invites the Secretary-General to request all relevant United Nations agencies, funds and programmes to intensify their efforts to support cooperation with the African Union, including through the implementation of the protocols to the Constitutive Act of the African Union[2] and the Treaty establishing the African Economic Community,[19] and to assist in harmonizing the programmes of the African Union with those of the African regional economic communities with a view to enhancing regional economic cooperation and integration;

4. Also invites the Secretary-General to request the United Nations system to enhance its support for the Commission of the African Union in the implementation of its Strategic Plan (2004-2007);

5. Requests the United Nations system, while acknowledging its primary role in the promotion and maintenance of international peace and security, to intensify its assistance to the African Union, as appropriate, in strengthening the institutional and operational capacity of its Peace and Security Council and in coordinating with other international partners when needed, in particular in the following areas:

(a) Development of its early warning system, including the Situation Room of the Peace and Security Directorate;

(b) Training of civilian and military personnel, including a staff exchange programme;

(c) Regular and continued exchange and coordination of information, including between the early warning systems and mediation mechanisms of the two organizations;

(d) Peace support missions of the African Union in its various member States, in particular in the area of communication and other related logistical support;

(e) Capacity-building for peacebuilding before and after the cessation of hostilities on the continent;

(f) Support for the Peace and Security Council in taking humanitarian action on the continent in accordance with the Charter of the United Nations and the Protocol relating to the Establishment of the Peace and Security Council;

(g) The full establishment of the African standby force and the military staff committee;

(h) Enhancement of the institutional capacity of regional peace support training centres for States members of the African Union;

(i) Cooperation between the United Nations Security Council and the African Union Peace and Security Council;

6. Calls upon the United Nations system to support the African Union and its member States in their efforts to implement the internationally agreed development goals, including the Millennium Development Goals;

7. Calls for the implementation of the declaration on enhancing United Nations-African Union cooperation: framework for the ten-year capacity-building programme for the African Union,[10] and in this regard, requests the Secretary-General to take appropriate measures to strengthen the capacity of the United Nations Secretariat and to implement its mandate with respect to meeting the special needs of Africa;

8. Recognizes the need for sustainable and predictable financing and operational and logistical support for African Union peacekeeping operations and the crucial role the United Nations has to play with the international community to work towards a solution quickly, and to that end, urges the United Nations to encourage donor countries, in consultation with the African Union, to contribute to adequate funding, training and logistical support for African countries in their efforts to enhance their peacekeeping capabilities, with a view to enabling those countries to participate actively in peacekeeping operations within the framework of the Protocol relating to the Establishment of the Peace and Security Council and the framework of the United Nations, and looks forward to the report of the Secretary-General on these issues;

9. Stresses the urgent need for the United Nations and the African Union to develop close cooperation and concrete programmes aimed at addressing the problems posed by illicit trafficking in small arms and light weapons and anti-personnel mines, within the framework of the relevant declarations and resolutions adopted by the two organizations;

10. Calls upon the United Nations system, the African Union and the international community to intensify their cooperation in the global fight against terrorism through the implementation of the relevant international and regional treaties and protocols and, in particular, the African Plan of Action adopted in Algiers on 14 September 2002, as well as their support for the operation of the African Centre for Studies and Research on Terrorism, inaugurated in Algiers in October 2004;

11. Also calls upon the United Nations system to intensify its efforts, in collaboration with the African Union, in combating illegal exploitation of natural resources, particularly in conflict areas, in accordance with relevant resolutions and decisions of the United Nations and the African Union;

12. Encourages the United Nations system to effectively support the efforts of the African Union by urging the international community to strive for the successful and timely completion of the Doha round of trade negotiations, including negotiations aimed at substantial improvements in areas such as trade-related measures, including market access and regional economic integration, to promote sustainable growth in Africa;

13. Invites the United Nations system to enhance its support for African countries in their efforts to implement the Johannesburg Plan of Implementation;[17]

14. Encourages the United Nations to take special measures to address the challenges of poverty eradication through debt cancellation, enhanced official development assistance, increases in flows of foreign direct investment and transfers of affordable and appropriate technology;

15. Calls upon the United Nations system to accelerate the implementation of the Plan of Action contained in the document entitled "A world fit for children", adopted on 10 May 2002 at the special session of the General Assembly on
